

I do not want any changes to the DO NOT CALL rules--I am very happy not being interrupted constantly by unsolicited sales people. You would not keep your front door open to allow strangers to walk into your home anytime they felt like it to sell you something---so why would I want them calling me on my house phone and interrupting me? It's an invasion of privacy!! Plus there are scam artists out there who take advantage of elderly people. Common sense tells us not to buy anything over the phone from someone you don't know--so why would you allow them to call us? Now we just need a DO NOT FAX list--why am I paying for paper for people to send me junk mail??
